"WATCH US GROW"

SUBSTANTIAL INSTITUTIONS ARE RECOGNIZING GOOD WORK
OF C. OF C.

Yesterday several things pleasantly happened to the Glendale Chamber of Commerce—not the least of which was a visit from Manager W. R. Phelon of the Southern California Gas Company, 1212 West Broadway, who gives Glendaleans such cheap, excellent and satisfactory gas service. He stated that his company wished to take a life membership in The Glendale Chamber of Commerce which is doing such good work for Glendale.

Another practical visitor, with practical methods of expressing appreciation, was Manager Jensen, of Glendale's beautiful commodious and comfortable Palace Grand Theatre, known among popular educators as "Jensen University." His views about Glendale's Chamber of Commerce may best be indicated by quoting what he wrote on our $25. subscription list, to-wit:

"Palace Grand Theatre will pay $25. a year to Glendale Chamber of Commerce."

May he live long and prosper.
Secretary Glendale Chamber of Commerce.

Tickets, which will be 35c each, may be had in Eagle Rock, from Otto Le Port, Miss Bertha Buck or Miss Laura Donnell; in Glendale from Ed. Stafford, Miss Ethel Preston or Will Richards.

"Tell some one else about it!"

TRAFFIC RULES SHOULD GOVERN

Yesterday's auto accident at the corner of Central avenue and Colorado street was not brought about by the careless driving of Mr. Figarola as was intimated in last night's Evening News. The car driven by this gentleman was going south on Central and had the right of way over the car coming west on Colorado.

If auto rules are to govern automobile traffic, and of course they should, Mr. Figarola was not at fault at all in this instance.

MOTERING COST REDUCED

There is now great commotion among automobile drivers since the Buick agency in Glendale announce through the Evening News about the 1917 late Model Buick's distillate burner which on a gallon test allowed the car to make 24 1-10 miles.

As one gallon of distillate costs only 10½ cents that means a great reduction in the expense of motoring.

This announcement is bringing this model of the Buick more prominently before the people than it ever was before.

DINNER PARTY

An enjoyable dinner party was given in honor of Miss Emma E. Adams of Glendale and Mr. H. H. Lauvach of Los Angeles, by Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Learned, 137 S. Maryland. The home was beautifully decorated with roses. The colors of red in the living room, and pink and white in the dining room prevailing. Covers were laid for sixteen guests who were from Burbank, Glendale, and Los Angeles. Games and music brought to a close a very happy occasion.

"BOYS CLUB" MEETING

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Turck, 521 Glendale Ave., Tropic, entertained the "Boys Club" Wednesday night at their home. Mrs. Turck gave an illustrated lecture on Venice, Italy, much to the delight of the boys. Photographs were displayed, which Mr. and Mrs. Turck had secured, as they have been residents three different times in Italy. Punch and wafers were served later in the evening. The eleven boys present, gave a rising vote of thanks to their hosts.

AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

ROSTRUM DEBATING CLUB CELEBRATES SECOND ANNIVERSARY OF ORGANIZATION

In one of the "peppiest" assemblies ever held in the Glendale Union High School the Rostrum debating society Wednesday morning celebrated their second anniversary as an organization. The program lasted about an hour, and consisted mainly of farcical selections, with several patriotic offerings mixed in. Berna Martin, the president of the club, acted as chairman of the affair.

The first number on the program was an excellent selection from the school orchestra, following which Bessie Carney beautifully rendered the very appropriate poem "Old Glory." Another patriotic recitation "My Flag and Your Flag," was then given by Margaret Lusby. The next recitation was a reading by Grace Carson, the poems having been written by Frances Gauntlett, who is a member of the school.

After the orchestra played another selection the program was resumed, the next number being a short farce entitled "The Triumph of Pauline." Pauline Winthrop, the heroine of the act, was cleverly represented by Evangeline Hunchberger, who performed excellently, even when she fell into her husband's (Olin Wilson, alias Jack Winthrop) arms in the last act. Kenneth Beldin, as Professor Theophilus Jilway the enthusiastic advocate of eugenics, was all that could be expected in his new role and created a great deal of laughter by his clever character acting. The two Irish servants, Bridget and Mary, took their respective parts excellently, their mastery of the Irish brogue adding more comedy to the affair.

Last but not least, the debate on the question "Good Looks are Better than Knowledge" was easily the hit of the entire performance. James McClusky, our naturalized German student, was the first speaker on the affirmative, giving convincing illustrations of several of the students. This part of the program created more laughter than any other in the entire show and "Spark" should be commended on his wonderful sense of humor. He was assisted by Guy Bennett and opposed by David Johnston and Dan Hagin. The debate ended almost dramatically when four and a half foot Guy Bennett completely knocked out "six footer" Hagin.

MR. GROSE COMES TO GLENDALE

The name of the new vulcanizing man at Conrad's old stand 1011 West Broadway, opposite the Chamber of Commerce rooms, is J. L. Grose. Glendale is extremely fortunate in having a man of Mr. Grose's qualifications and business integrity locate in this city. Mr. Grose is recently from San Francisco where he was connected with one of the largest tire concerns in the United States, giving his attention to vulcanizing and general tire repair and reconstruction work.

When in search for a location, Mr. Grose visited Glendale and was so pleased with the beauty of the city and the encouraging prospects in his line of work that he decided to locate here, and therefore purchased the Conrad vulcanizing plant. It is Mr. Grose's intention to carry a full line of tires, and install additional equipment suitable for doing all kinds of tire repairing and tire reconstruction work. Mr. Grose is a "good work" enthusiast. He actually does things and spends very little time talking about what he will do. He is an expert and reliable tire man.

CAMPING TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ingledue, 725 W. 3rd St., leave today for an auto trip up the valley to Bakersfield and Yosemite Park. They will camp out on the trip using an outfit which they manufactured themselves. They will travel slowly taking in the country as they go.

They will call on Mr. Geo. Allen and family at Taft, Cal., and Mr. Frank Litchfield and family of Orsola Farm, Cal., who were formerly residents of Glendale. Mr. and Mrs. Ingledue will be gone for several weeks, and with the manner of their traveling, expect to have a grand trip.

May 31st, at 11 A. M., at Sycamore Grove will be held a picnic for the Daughters of the American Revolution of Southern California Chapters. Bring your own luncheon, cup and spoon. Coffee will be furnished.

WEBBER WILL LECTURE

May 15, 1915
Mr. Walter Le Noir Church,
Secretary Chamber of Commerce,
Glendale, California.

Dear Sir: I am in receipt of communication from Prof. V. C. Bryant, of the University of California, who is with the special preparedness train that is being run over the Salt Lake Railway, requesting me to inform you as to the party from this Experiment Station, that will give a lecture at the evening meeting to be held in our city on May 26th. This lecture will be given by myself, Dr. H. J. Webber, Director, Citrus Experiment Station, on the subject "The Agricultural Emergency in Southern California."

As you may know I have recently been a member of a committee that has held special hearings on resources and food supplies in the various Southern California counties under the direction of the State Council of Defense. The lecture will give many of the facts and suggestions brought out in these various hearings and should be of interest and value to your agriculturists. The train exhibits are exceedingly interesting and should attract considerable attention. The time is short, but I trust you will be able to advertise these features fully, so that these matters of interest may be brought to a large number of your people.

Very truly yours,
H. J. WEBBER,
Director, Citrus Experiment Station.

GARDEN SOCIETY PLANS

Then the ways and means of running a weekly vegetable market, in order that home gardeners may be able to dispose of surplus produce, must be considered; already a centrally located site has been offered to the Garden Society for this purpose.

This important get-together of willing workers should not be overlooked. All friends ready to lend a helping hand in any way are cordially invited to be present this evening at 7:30, at 1222 Milford Street. Phone, Glendale 394.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, MAY 17, 1917

VALIANTLY SUPPORTING THE LOCAL DAILY PAPER

It is indeed gratifying to the management of the Glendale Evening News, that there are so many people in the Glendale community who recognize the urgent need of placing all possible advertising and job printing in the office of the Community Daily Newspaper. They have learned by past experience in business that the magnitude of any concern is in proportion to the support it gets. And as the Glendale Daily is a community publication, one that builds up worthy institutions of the city, everybody interested in Glendale is ready to do all possible to strengthen and perpetuate the Glendale Daily Newspaper.

Increased advertising makes it possible for the management to spend more money in publishing a better paper. Increased circulation means that merchants are afforded a better opportunity of reaching the people through the columns of the Community Daily. Thus it is clearly understood by all who desire to work the greatest benefit for the city, that all advertising and job patronage should be placed where it will work out the greatest good for the city. The larger and better the daily paper in a city, the greater are the indications to the outside world that that city is one of business thrift and real progress.

It takes money to pay compositors for work on lengthy reports of civic bodies, clubs, schools and other institutions, and to make it possible to have these complete reports it is necessary that persons interested in the publication of such reports extend liberal support to the paper containing them. That is what the people are doing. You are thanked for your wise business consideration.

WONDERS OF A BOOK

There is perhaps no greater wonder than a book. By the help of little figures upon spins or paper men have been able to transmit their thoughts through thousands of years. The names and shapes of things, the deeds and sorrows that have occurred as far back as Adam, have been made known to us. Even those invisible and abstract thoughts which have no shape or substance, but which inspired the writer and have since inspired others, are all put down in the little letters and made eternal. The songs of David, the speculations of Plato, the visions of Homer, have by these means been handed down faithfully for many centuries and distributed among mankind. If there were no books our knowledge would almost be confined to the limit of sight and hearing. All that we could not see or hear would be to us like the inhabitants of the planet Saturn—a mere matter of idle conjecture.—Barry Cornwall.

U. S. ARMY OFFICERS MAKE PHENOMENAL RUN

One of the most remarkable endurance runs on record was that made by United States Army Officers in their whirlwind recruiting campaign in California.

The purpose of the tour was to secure recruits in isolated sections that are inaccessible to ordinary recruiting efforts. In order to reach the 160 towns on the route it was necessary to cover 3433 miles. A fast schedule was arranged by the officers in charge of the tour, calling for completion of the entire trip in seventeen days. This meant an average of nine towns and two hundred miles a day. Two Overland cars were selected for the trip—a Big Four Touring car and a light delivery wagon. The stops varied anywhere from half an hour up to several hours, depending on the length of time occupied in securing recruits in each town. Very often more time would be required than had been estimated, and it would be up to the Overlands to make it up on the road.

The touring car carried five passengers. The Delivery Wagon carried two passengers and nearly a thousand pounds of baggage and recruiting paraphernalia. In order to make up time lost at many of the towns it was necessary to drive on some stretches as fast as forty-six miles an hour. This, of course, was on the highways. Part of the route lay over mountain passes and across desert trails. All kinds of road conditions had to be negotiated in order to reach the isolated towns and villages.

But for reckless driving of the Big Four, which resulted in two collisions, there would have been no expense for repairs on either car during the entire trip. Both cars, however, finished the run of more than three thousand miles on schedule time to the minute, the delivery wagon coming through without a mishap and without the expenditure of a single penny for repairs.

The Glendale Evening News should be delivered at your home by the carrier not later than 4:30 p. m. every day except Sunday, and usually much earlier than that time. Subscribers who have not received their paper at 4:30 o'clock, should notify the office by phone: Glendale 132, Home 2401.

CANNING AND PRESERVING OF VEGETABLES AND FRUITS

Article 1.
All information given under this series of articles is gathered from government bulletins and other reliable sources. The home tested recipes will be collected from local housewives known for their ability as good cooks.

The great secret of canning or preserving lies in complete sterilization. The air we breathe, the water we drink, all fruits and vegetables, are teeming with minute forms of life which we call bacteria, or molds, or germs. These germs are practically the sole cause of decomposition or rotting. The exclusion of air from canned articles is necessary only because in excluding it we exclude the germ. Molds and yeast germs are usually killed at the temperature of boiling water. These attack jellies and fruits and are not concerned with the spoiling of canned vegetables. The spoiling of vegetables is due primarily to bacteria, which are much more resistant than the other germ forms. Bacteria are so small that they can only be seen through a microscope, and they reproduce themselves with amazing rapidity. One bacterium under favorable conditions will produce about twenty millions in the course of twenty-four hours. Accordingly certain vegetables spoil more rapidly than others, because they furnish a better medium for bacterial growth.

The reproduction of bacteria is brought about by one of two processes. The germ either divides itself into two parts, making two bacteria where one existed before, or else reproduces itself by means of spores. These spores may be compared with seeds of an ordinary plant, and they present the chief difficulty in canning vegetables. While the parent bacteria may be readily killed at the temperature of boiling water, the seeds retain their vitality for a long time even at that temperature, and upon cooling will germinate, and the newly formed bacteria will begin their destructive work. Therefore it is necessary, in order to completely sterilize a vegetable, to heat it to the boiling point of water and keep it at that temperature for about an hour, upon two or three successive days, or else keep it at the temperature of boiling water for a long period of time—about five hours. The process of boiling on the first day kills all the molds and practically all of the bacteria, but does not kill the spores or seeds. As soon as the jar cools these seeds germinate and a fresh crop of bacteria begin work upon the vegetables. The boiling upon the second day kills this crop of bacteria before they have had time to develop spores. The boiling upon the third day is advisable in order to be sure that the sterilization is complete. Among scientists this is called fractional sterilization, and this principle constitutes the whole secret of canning. If the housewife will only bear this in mind she will be able with a little ingenuity to can any meat, fruit, or vegetable.

The first step in successful canning is the selection and preparation of the vegetables. Never attempt to can any vegetable that has matured and commenced to harden, or one that has begun to decay. As a general rule, young vegetables are superior in flavor and texture to the more mature ones. This is especially true of string beans, okra, and asparagus.

Vegetables are better if gathered in the early morning while the dew is still on them, except beans which must on no account be handled while wet as it will cause rust of the vines. If it is impossible to can immediately, do not allow them to wither, but put them in cold water or in a cold, damp place and keep them crisp until you are ready for them.

If corn, peas, beans and, very often, asparagus are allowed to stand too long before they are canned a sour taste may develop. Accordingly they should be canned within two or three hours after picking, to avoid the development of this sour taste, known as "flat sour."

Do your canning in a "well-swept and well-dusted room. This will tend to reduce the number of spores floating about and lessen the chances of your food becoming filled with germs.

There are a great many brands of so-called "preserving powders" on the market. It is true that these powders may prevent the decay of the fruit or vegetable, but they also encourage uncleanly, careless work, and in the hands of inexperienced persons may be dangerous. While with small doses the influence may not be apparent in an adult in normal health, with a child or an invalid the effect may be of a serious nature. The proper way to sterilize is by means of heat, and as this can be done very easily and cheaply chemical preservations in canning should not be used.

We would remind housewives that right now is the best time to put up asparagus, peas, rhubarb, and strawberries. String beans and sweet corn will soon be along. The following tested recipes for the home canning of certain vegetables are recommended by Mrs. A. S. Chase, 1500 Riverdale Drive.

Canned Corn—Pack tightly into jars fresh corn cut from the cobs. Lay lids on the jars and screw down only slightly. Set jars into boiler with a rack in the bottom to allow circulation of heat and water underneath them, fill with water to within one and one-half inches of top of jars, bring to boil and BOIL THREE HOURS. Then loosen the covers an instant, seal, return to boiler, and entirely cover the jars with boiling water. Continue to boil for one hour longer.

The boiling water surrounding the jars must be replenished with boiling water at intervals during the cooking process, and the lid must be kept on the boiler. About sixteen one quart jars can be set into an ordinary wash-boiler at one time.

In serving this corn a lit needs is to get it thoroughly hot, add a little cream, or milk and butter, and seasoning.

Canned Peas—Shell the peas and pack them closely in glass jars, add to each quart one teaspoon each of salt and sugar, fill jars full of water, screw lids on but slightly, and boil for three hours occasionally replenishing the boiling water around the jars. Remove jars at a time from boiler, fill to overflowing with boiling water, put on rubber ring and seal quickly, then let cool.

Canned Asparagus—Pack it into jars in stalks or cut up into pieces, as desired, and proceed as directed for peas, omitting the sugar. Some prefer to salt it when it is opened for use.

Canned Beans—Use green limas or string, or wax beans, season with salt and proceed as directed for peas, omitting the sugar.

Strawberries—To can strawberries with a small amount of sugar and have them retain flavor and color, first wash the berries in cold water, hull and drain. Use only good and solid berries. Place them on stove in galvanized iron, or aluminum, pan and heat slowly to boiling point, stirring frequently with wooden spoon to keep the mess from burning on the bottom.

As soon as fruit is well separated from the juice, turn the fire on hot and boil fast until most of the juice has disappeared. As soon as the fruit has become about as thick as a heavy mush remove pan with fruit from stove and weigh or measure same. Then add one-half pound of sugar to each pound of cooked fruit, replace fruit on stove and cook for ten minutes, stirring constantly. Then place prepared fruit in good glass jars which have been well sterilized, add rubber ring and cover and screw the top down tight. When the fruit has cooled tighten the covers still further. Label and put away in a cool, dry place.

The above recipe makes an excellent sauce, moderately sweet. If a light preserve is desired, follow same process of preparation but use more sugar, three-quarters of a pound of sugar to one pound of cooked fruit; where a heavy jam is desired use pound for pound of both sugar and fruit and cook a little longer.

MRS. KARA S. ROOT, Committee Chairman.

EDUCATIONAL EXHIBIT

On Saturday, May 26th, the magnificent educational exhibit that is being presented to the people of three states by the combined efforts of the faculties of their Agricultural Colleges and the United States government, will visit Glendale.

This is by far the greatest effort in the line of quick education that has ever been attempted, but the present crisis demands immediate action, and the country tributary to the Salt Lake Route is responding with magnificent enthusiasm to this opportunity of having a post graduate course in crop increase and production.

From the first day of its tour the Preparedness Train has been greeted with tremendous crowds of visitors and its eleven exhibit cars have told the story of our country's needs and how to meet them, to thousands of interested people at every point along the line.

The train will be open in Glendale during the entire day, and evening meetings will be held to discuss the best means of accomplishing the necessary results in food increase and conservation.

A most interesting demonstration of work by the latest models of farm tractors will be given at 2 P. M.
From 2 to 4 P. M., the train will be specially open to the pupils of the High School and the seventh and eighth grade of the Grammar schools.

The general direction of the exhibits and demonstrations will be conducted by representatives of the University of California, Nevada state university and the Utah Agricultural college. From California comes Prof. W. T. Clarke, a leading expert in extension work, assisted by Prof. V. C. Bryant and able educators. From Nevada comes Prof.
Charles S. Knight, dean of the college of agriculture, with Prof.
Charles Norcross and several other experts. Utah is well represented by Prof. L. M. Winsor, assisted by Prof. Byron Alder, Miss Gertrude McCheyne, Prof. F. S. Harris, and others.

California has two cars of exhibits illustrating bean and forage crops, the bean display being the result of suggestions from Dean Thomas F. Hunt of the agricultural department of the University of California. It is claimed that the bean is to be one of the corner stones on which government food experts are to build their superstructure of preparedness. There also are cars equipped by the Utah-Idaho Sugar company, illustrative of sugar beet culture and sugar manufacture, an

NEED MORE FOOD SUPPLIES

Mr. H. C. Nutt, General Manager of the Salt Lake Route, is with the train. He says: "America needs a certainty of food for herself and any excess can be used to advantage to assist friends across the sea. The work of this great preparedness train is to show how this certainty of food for ourselves may be made a fact and how the United States can spread out our production so as to be able to send something to assist those who are struggling in foreign lands. There are a lot of lines in which we must extend our production and this train is lined up and equipped to tell the story to all who are willing to learn. There will be a car devoted to bean culture, another to cereals and a stock exhibit will occupy still another. Electrical possibilities, both from a labor-saving and a development angle, will be demonstrated, while the latest in tractors and farm machinery will be carried in other cars. The train will be an education in itself, while the talented instructors accompanying it will supply the details of the means which the train illustrates."

LA CANADA

Mr. Heath of Homewood avenue has sold his home and property. The purchasers wish to rebuild and occupy as soon as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence of Hawthorne have recently moved into the place on North Burr avenue owned by Mr. Guidinger. Mr. Laurence is a cousin of the Durands on Michigan avenue. The Laurences moved to La Canada because of ill health in the family.

*Within three weeks the Johnson house on North Haskell street, which is being constructed by H. Cooper and Sons, will be ready for plaster, as announced by the contractors. Mr. Johnson, who was living in the old home place on Haskell near Fairview, had his former place torn down and is erecting an extremely modern home.

After fighting the perils of the desert for over two years, Mr. D. A. Peet and family, who took up two joint claims in the Antelope Valley two years ago, expect to return to La Canada within the next few weeks.

Since Mrs. Peet has leased her home on Haskell and Peet streets, the family will construct a temporary house in the lower part of La Canada.

Because of the work on the school operetta, "The Posey Bed," to be given Friday night at the school house, the Busy Fingers postponed their meeting this week until next Monday afternoon.

As members of the Los Angeles Robert E. Lee chapter of the U. B. C., Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Van Degriest of North Burr avenue will entertain that organization at its annual all-day picnic Saturday afternoon, May 19, at the Van Degriest home. Last year the Van Degriests opened their home for the annual picnic. Everyone so thoroughly enjoyed the day that they welcomed another invitation to repeat the festivities. Mrs. Van Degriest expects at least one hundred guests. At twelve the picnic lunch will be served. After lunch Mrs. Van Degriest has arranged it so those who wish may go in swimming.

Jumping from his 40 mile an hour runaway automobile, J. R. Cranson of Los Angeles, who lost control of his machine last Monday afternoon while "trying her out" on North School street, was thrown into the gutter and received several injuries, a compound fractured arm and serious cuts on the head. The machine turned off to the side shortly after Cranson's hands had left the steering wheel. A slight ditch at the side of the road caused the machine to come to a standstill. Although the two front wheels were broken off and the fenders and radiator badly mutilated, Cranson felt that the machine damages were comparatively light. Cranson was aided almost immediately by two gentlemen who saw the accident from a distance. They administered first aid to the injuries and hurried the patient off to the Pasadena hospital, where Cranson is supposed to have friends. When relieved from his dazed condition, Cranson explained that he was a new hand at driving. He evidently was unable to judge the slope of the street and allowed the speeding car to creep up on him too suddenly. Physicians say that without a doubt Cranson will recover. They marveled at the few injuries under the circumstances. The machine was taken to a garage in Pasadena.

Eighteen ladies met last Tuesday afternoon in the school building at the regular meeting of the La Canada Red Cross branch. Sewing machines buzzed all afternoon. Several night gowns were completed, ready to be sent back to headquarters for use. Mrs. J. R. Murry, secretary and treasurer of the organization, enrolled three new members this week. Since the La Canada branch was organized, not one week has passed but what at least two new members have enrolled. It is a general opinion that this organization is more enthusiastic and more business like than any other in the valley. New members are invited to join. The next meeting will be at the regular time next Tuesday afternoon at 2:30, in the school building.

Under the auspices of the Catholic church of Pasadena, Miss Eleanor Dewey, of the Foothill school on North School street, has established a branch Catholic Sunday School which meets at the Foothill school Sunday mornings at 9:30 o'clock. Miss Clementina Griffin and Miss Aldine Norton are co-workers in this movement. Miss Dewey first established the school in the middle of February, 1917. At that time the attendance was about eight or nine pupils. The actual enrollment now is twenty members. This includes practically all the Catholic children in the valley. Most of those who attend Miss Dewey's Sunday School are unable to go to their own church, either in Glendale or Pasadena. The youngsters have taken up the work with earnest eagerness and Miss Dewey says their regular attendance is remarkable. When the school months close, the Sunday school will also discontinue for the three months vacation. But as soon as fall comes on Miss Dewey will take up her work again and continue uninterrupted through the winter.

A crowd of young people met in gay spirits last Friday night at the home of Miss Fannie Jewett of North Burr avenue, when the La Canada Christian Endeavor held their regular monthly business meeting and social. Miss Jewett joined the C. E. a few weeks ago. Upon request, she accepted the chairmanship of the social committee. Consequently Friday night being the first social superintended by the new chairman, took the form of her debut as commissioner of social activities. Miss Jewett carried the evening through as a May party. She passed to each person the materials for making a Maybasket: scissors, a small basket, paste and tissue paper. When all had finished, the clever creations were held up for inspection. It was impossible to distinguish some of the quaint things from odd shaped lunch baskets. But on the whole several declared that they saw actual glimmerings of artistic appreciation.

About ten-thirty the hostess passed a single flower to each guest. She had arranged it in such a manner that there were two of each kind of flower in the room. One belonged to a boy and the other to a girl. In this way by matching flowers they found partners for a dainty basket lunch. The crowd dispersed about eleven-thirty. Everyone felt that the evening was one grand success.

TUJUNGA

Mr. C. H. Clark of San Ysidro street will attend the G. A. R. Department Encampment at Long Beach during the present week.

Mr. Wilmot Parcher, Mr. D. C. Dean and Mr. Stewart motored to Pasadena on Monday.

Cecil and Robert Lee of Huntington Park were the guests of Miss Lucy Lee on Pine street for over Sunday. The last of this week they will leave with Miss Lee for their new home beyond Bishop at the tungsten mines.

The Friday Morning Round Table will hold its monthly meeting May 18th at 10:30 under the oaks on Michigan avenue, if the weather is warm. The subjects for discussion are:

A. Upon what foundation of social economics would you build a more equitable foundation than the present one?

B. Method of procedure?

C. What would be an ideal structure?

Each one has five minutes to outline the above ideas. The ladies have lately finished reading and criticizing Rauschenbusch's "Christianity and the Social Crisis" with both profit and pleasure, and during the warm weather will meet only once a month instead of once a week, as formerly.

Members of the Ladies' Aid met with Mrs. Hubbard on Stephens Way to sew for charitable purposes.

Fifteen acres of land in the western part of Tujunga are being cleared, plowed and are to be planted to potatoes by a cafeteria man of Los Angeles. A number of residents of this valley have both peas and new potatoes ready to eat.

The Bee Club will hold its monthly meeting at the home of Ensign Woodruff on El Centro on Monday eve, May 21st, at 7:30. Everyone who is interested is invited to attend. Business of importance is to be brought before the club.

Mrs. Ollie F. Fitz and Miss Fitz of Santa Ana spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Woodrow of Pine street.

Mrs. E. H. Reese of Los Angeles was in Tujunga on Wednesday looking after her property on San Ysidro street. Mrs. Reese hopes to be numbered among the residents of this valley soon.

Mrs. Darlington returned last week from a five weeks' stay in Pasadena.

George H. Maxwell still continues to lecture on Sunday evenings at Bolton Hall. Judging from the crowded houses all seem to be fully interested, not only in the tilling of the soil but in the Brotherhood of Man.

Frank Zeitler, one of the first comers here, left for his old home in Canada, Tuesday.

Word received from Mrs. B. Barclay is that she is steadily improving and her friends hope to see her soon in her home, restored to perfect health.

Mr. Johnson of the Tujunga store was a business visitor to Los Angeles Wednesday.

Mrs. Kempson of Los Angeles was at her home on Greeley street for a few days.

Miss Hannah McKee has gone to Pasadena for a visit with friends.

Mrs. Van Battum is visiting with friends in Glendale.

Major W. Fay and wife of San Francisco visited in Tujunga on Tuesday. Looking over the village, they decided it would be a good place to locate.

Will Livingston, who has been on the Fitzgerald ranch for the past two years, left on Tuesday with his family for Long Beach, where he will leave them for the summer and go to Arizona. The best wishes of everyone goes with him, but such is the attraction of Tujunga for all who live there, that all who go away are bound to return later.

Bobbie Best, who has been so ill, is now at the home of Geo. Slusher, his uncle, and rapidly gaining his health. Well, one cannot do otherwise in this place, where the doctors have to turn to other occupations for their living.

Every one in Tujunga has the garden fever. D. C. Dean has turned over his lawn and planted it to spuds and will fill the rows between with Limas. His latest acquisition is a goat, and now all he needs is a pig for meat, as his bees are busy storing the sugar.

Charles W. Dean has planted 1½ acres to beans and is still busy putting in more on Walnut drive.

Mrs. Linnaberry and Osgood have put the most of their acre into corn and potatoes. These with other vegetables will help to overcome the H. C. of L.

There seems to be quite a bit of stir in real estate. One man from Saskatchewan, Canada, has written for acreage. Parties from Pasadena are desirous of exchanging, also from San Diego and Long Beach. Well, "Give us the hills, rough, rugged tho' they be, No other land, no other clime, is half so dear to me."

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Barnett and son Paul of Pasadena drove over Sunday afternoon to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Woodrow, who are former Minnesota friends.

Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Wheeler will occupy the Westel house for July and August.

We regret to learn of the death of Jean Pussinger of pneumonia at the County hospital. Mr. Pussinger owned a home on Las Robles avenue, where his wife and son reside.

The present high cost of milk has caused many to invest in goats, many of them with fine pedigrees. Yet even in the goat business there is much to be learned, and it has its ups and downs. One must know how to feed scientifically as well as economically. To know what is best at all times. One lady loved her goat so well that she fed it all it would eat of green alfalfa, and for some time after it took the united efforts of the family to keep her on this side of the river. Now her ladyship has to be content with brush and tin cans. Another, for the past four years has succeeded in having eleven Billies and not a doe in the bunch, while her neighbor has nearly all does. Such are the ups and downs in the goat deal.

Dave Costello is rapidly rebuilding the post of his house lately destroyed by fire and will soon have a neat, compact little bungalow.

A card received from Percy De Wellow at Mare Island, says everything is fine there, and we all trust it will continue so. Percy is much missed by all who knew him, and especially so by those who patronized him on the car line stage. No driver was ever more courteous and kind.

Mrs. Kearney attended the Sunday School convention in Los Angeles and from there went to Long Beach for a visit with friends.

LA CRESCENTA

The Foothill Improvement Federation met Monday night at the school house. Representatives were present from Sunland, Tujunga, La Canada and La Crescenta. The extension of the state highway was considered and measures taken looking to getting the bridges built across the Tujunga wash. The flood water question was discussed and the Federation unanimously favored having check dams built in the Haynes Canyon and in the Pickens Canyon that the water might be held back in the mountains. It was also decided to request the supervisors to scrape Honolulu avenue between Los Angeles avenue and Montrose. The Federation believes it is necessary for the better development of this entire section that the railroad should be extended to Sunland as soon as possible and it is hoped that there may be sufficient cooperation all along the line to make that extension possible soon.

The work on Mr. Nichols new residence opposite the Fairmont Hotel is progressing nicely.

Colonel Thornton is putting a wire fence around his place. He has put a very artistic pergola over the entrance to the driveway.

The La Crescenta Women's Club met Wednesday, May 9, at the home of Mrs. Culberson. Mrs. Baldrige was voted into the membership of the Club. Mrs. Belle Miller gave a very interesting talk on wild flowers. The ladies enjoyed a dainty buffet lunch served by the hostess.

The west La Crescenta baseball team defeated the Montrose players last Sunday to a tune of 9 to 8.

Miss Agnes Tupper of Glendale spent Friday night with Miss Roberta Hopping, and attended the backward party given "by Las Hijas del Rey."

Mr. and Mrs. Aiken were in La Crescenta Tuesday.

Mrs. Rheinschild took Mr. Andresen to a point a few miles north of Saugus Wednesday morning.

A new lot of books have arrived at the Library.

The La Crescenta Band is progressing nicely, but we would be glad to see some older people join it.

THE KNOCKERS FATE

There was a man named Peter Grimm

Who lived beside my door,
A sour and surly little man,
Of age about three-score
From morn till night he stormed at fate,

At wind, or at the weather,
He knocked and knocked at everything,
That he could put together.

"The crops were bad, the weather sour,

The sun too hot or dry,
All men were cheats; (except himself),

Or liars was his cry."
It did not seem to matter much
If things went right or wrong,
He still kept up his knocking cry,
Most dismal was his song.

He moved away to genial climes,
Yet still the same old cry;
No place was there on earth I ween,
This knocker did not try.

At last he passed as all men do
To land of endless day,
But even there the same old knock Began to pave the way.

"The walks too smooth—might break a leg,"

The garments pure and white
And glittering gems on every side,
"Were glaring to his sight."
The music did not suit his ear,
("Twas not attuned to bliss,) And all the beauties everywhere
He really seemed to miss.

He knocked and knocked, at this and that,

E'en in this perfect place,
And spirits sweet on every side
Bid fair to fall from grace.
So Peter seized him by the crop,
And shoved him out the door,
"Stay there," he cried, "you snarling cur,
And knock forever more."

So when the time shall come at last,
That you shall enter in,
You'll find him knocking at the gate,
This same old Peter Grimm.

(Longhorn:) Fiancee: George, dear, you've been drinking again, I can tell it.

Fiance: Don't do it, m'dear, don't do it—les keep it a family secret.

Yonkers Statesman:) Bacon This is my birthday, and my wife planned a surprise for me.
Egbert: That's nice.
"Yes, she went through my pockets last night and left 50 cents in one of them."

"IN HOC SIGNO VINCES"

And so much good in the worst of us, What call, indeed, has any of us To find fault with the rest of us."

In a crude way, does not that old screed radiate the true spirit of Knighthood—howsoever the term be qualified? Happily, there is no such thing as "The Knighthood of Hate."

The Installation services, impressive in form, pregnant with deep suggestion, beautiful in expression, were conducted by Sir Knight, Rowley—of Los Angeles Commandery No. 9, who marshalled martially, and conducted the officers elect before the retiring Eminent Commander, Sir Knight Mattison B. Jones, whose last official acts in No. 53 was to finally qualify his successor, Sir Knight Clement L. V. Moore, and his aids, for the important duties now incumbent upon them—duties daily assuming a graver aspect as the signs on the Invisible Cross are interpreted by the shadows of swift coming events.

One thing seemed paramount; the affection and confidence of the whole Commandery in the retiring officers, most of whom only retired from one office to take another higher up; if, among true Knights, any office be higher than another. The expressions of fraternal esteem were concentrated on Sir Knight Mattison B. Jones, who has been called to a wider field of Knight Errantry; to guard, protect, foresee and prevent—in a larger way; the reward of the faithful servant to whom is said, "Well done." But even his eloquent tongue could not voice the feeling aroused by their parting jeweled gift, and the fraternal love expressed with and by it.

Those so impressively installed are:

Sir Knight, Clement L. V. Moore, Eminent Commander;
Sir Knight Charles L. Peckham, Generalissimo;
Sir Knight David Crofton, Captain General;
Sir Knight P. J. Priaulx, Senior Warden,
Sir Knight F. H. Vesper, Treasurer,
Sir Knight Daniel Campbell, Junior Warden,
Sir Knight Charles Rittenhouse, Recorder,
Sir Knight George Ulysses Moyse, Standard Bearer,
Sir Knight Mark Lee, Sword Bearer,
Sir Knight William Ratray, Warden,
Sir Knight Fred J. Miles, Captain of The Guard, and Sir Knight Charles Ravenscroft, Sentinel.

The flags and the flowers, the opening hymn, America, the sayings and doings, the essentials and incidents, all proclaim the Knights Templar to be a band of Christian Patriots who would be Salvators in the hour of our Country's need; constructive developers in all hours, whether of peace or war. Like the Watch on the Rhine, for all time to come, as well as in all the years of the past, they, too, have and will stand fast; ready for whatsoever may come under the Flag to which their allegiance is pledged, "now and forever; one and inseparable," in the true inherited and developed spirit of Our Fathers who bequeathed to us our liberties.

The singing of Mrs. Sir Knight Peckham, accompanied by Professor and Mrs. Lowinski; the playing of those two on violin and piano; and the singing of Dr. Joseph Marple of Tropic, with the sympathetic accompaniment of his beautiful partner, all were delightful, and greatly enjoyed by a highly appreciated audience. That "little bit of heaven which dropped into the sea," and became the fairyland where the shamrock first grew—but small wonder is it that God loves the Irish, and the Irish love Ireland.

Last, but by no means least, a supper set on a hospitable spacious white cross, made one recall tales of the Hospitallers whose country was the world, whose mother and sister were all women; whose brethren were all men of all nations. Around that wholesome, dainty table were happily gathered flower-like children, "fair women and brave men," Knight Templarhood, in Glendale, as elsewhere, is a fountain of good to the community, "A very present help in trouble," under the guidance of the High Grand Commander whom they try to serve.

(Pluck:) She: Don't you think Friday is a very unlucky day on which to be married?

He: Why-er-yes, of course, but why pick on poor Friday?

(Kansas City Journal:) "How about this Wombat-Flubbub wedding?"

"He's been married only twice, I believe, and she but once. It's a mere boy-and-girl affair."

(Life:) Adam (after a long silence:) Say, Eve, can't you say something? It's dull here with a dumb wife.

Eve: What's a woman to talk about, with no clothes and no servants?

Just the art of being kind is what this sad world needs.
